Teachers take vote, may strike district

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

Romulus teachers have voted to go on strike unless negotiators for the Romulus Board of Education make "substantial changes" in their last offer to the Romulus Education Association (REA).

Chris Powers, chief negotiator for the REA, said that the teachers group voted 149-121 Monday evening to authorize the negotiation team to call a walk out to back up contract demands made on the board.

"We asked for the vote after the board stayed with the same offer it made Sept. 1 to get us back to work," Mrs. Powers said. "Unless there is some movement, there could be a strike."

Mrs. Powers added that the two sides in the negotiations are approximately $380,000 apart in reaching economic settlement of the new pact.

"The teachers agreed to go back to work Sept. 1 because the board indicated it would make some movement toward settlement," Mrs. Powers said. "But the last offer has been unchanged since that time, and the mediator doesn't think the board will budge."

Schools Supt. James Garfield, who is handling the negotiations, was unavailable for comment at the time the teachers union announced its strike decision. According to a secretary at the Board of Education offices, Garfield was in the Michigan Employment Relations Commission offices for a mediation session.

School Board President Gerald Budd, likewise, was unavailable for comment.

The teachers group has set up a strike headquarters in an apartment building across the street from the Romulus High School. In addition, the teachers have set up an instant news hot line for the parents in the district. The number for the hot line is 721-0619.

The strike vote comes at a crucial time in the school calendar for the Romulus district. Friday is the day for the official school attendance census which is used to determine the amount of state aid the district will receive during the coming year.

State aid is based on a tax levy and student population formula, with aid increasing as the population increases.

Mrs. Powers said she is not discouraged by the relatively close vote by 270 teachers, since some voiced a determination to strike immediately rather than wait for another mediation session.

"The membership is in support of the action, and that's what's important," Mrs. Powers said. "I think the Board of Education has received the message."

Roman resumes election forum

The Romulus Roman again will be asking candidates for office questions pertaining to the general election and problems in the city. The next question was made available to all candidates running for office at noon today (Sept. 24). The candidates should pick the question up and return their answers to us — in writing — by noon Monday (Sept. 29). Questions about the election issue forum should be directed to Lucy Wiesend, editor of The Romulus Roman at 729-4000.

Center offers help for elderly

A secretary's desire to help anyone in need has turned into a new service at the Romulus Help Center.

Norma Thompson, a former billing clerk at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, has turned her knowledge obtained while working for the hospital into a "help" for Romulus-area residents in need of advice on how to cut governmental red tape.

What the Help Center does for younger clients, Mrs. Thompson is doing for the community's senior citizens by primarily using her knowledge of the Medicare and Medicaid systems.

"I found that when a person has a problem and no income and needs medical assistance, he sometimes doesn't know where to turn," Mrs.

Thompson said. "But since I worked at billing Medicare and Medicaid at the hospital for so long, I knew generally where people should go for help, and advised them."

"It's grown to where I get seven or eight calls each day."

Mrs. Thompson has been on the Help Center staff for nine months, doubling as secretary and job placement coordinator during that time.

The extra help with government red tape grew out of her secretarial chores.

"People call and don't know where to go," she said. "If I have the information, I try to pass it along."

During her time on the job, Mrs. Thompson not only has learned the ramifications of laws governing the state, federal and country-subsidized Medicaid program, and the federally-financed Medicare programs but she also has learned the way through the governmental maze to solve problems.

"I mark down all the information I obtain on running through government agencies when I work on each case," she said. "And I use that information the next time I have a similar problem."

"It's invaluable, because people in need sometimes have to have quick responses."

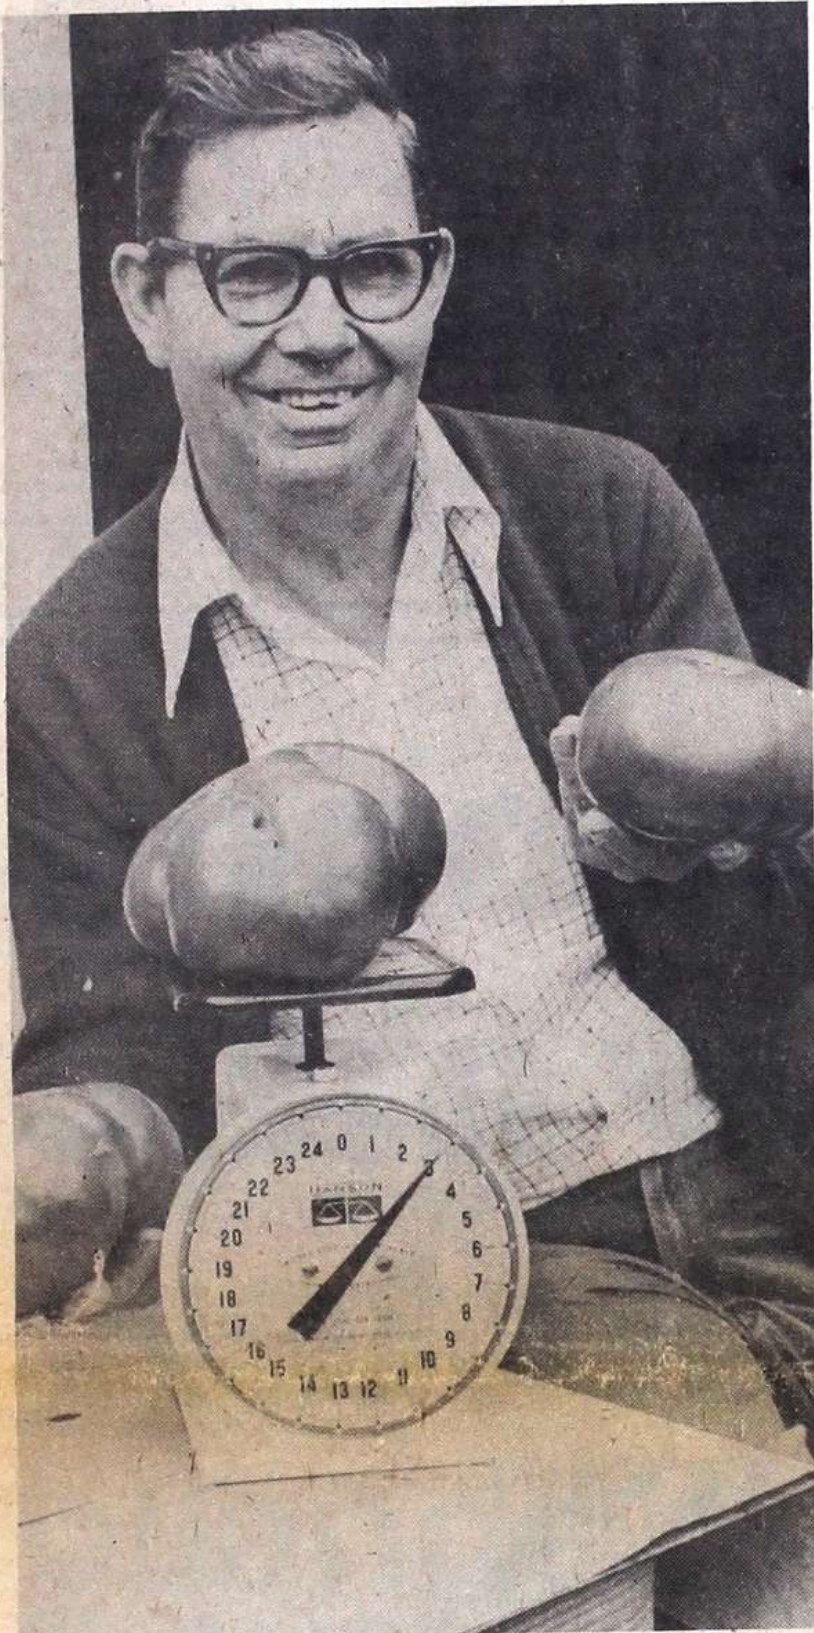

Center Director Leonard Melnick said that Mrs. Thompson has a knack not only of handling incoming calls, but also of charming secretaries and aides to officials within government, agencies on the federal, state, county and local levels.

"It's amazing the way the secretaries and aides will help her get her answers quickly," Melnick said. "The work has proven to be a real service to the community."

Mrs. Thompson's service area has expanded from learning about state and federal health care programs to a growing knowledge of assistance, tax payment and social security services available to all persons in the community.

"It's our job here to provide answers when people need them," Mrs. Thompson said. "I'll pitch in where ever I can help."

Now that's a tomato!

Weighing in at three pounds and accompanied by two other heavyweights is this tomato raised by Herb Collins of Romulus. Collins' green thumb certainly reaped good results this summer. It may not break the world's record for fat tomatoes, but it's certainly an uncommon sight in this community, the harvestor said. — Photo by The Romulus Roman Chief Photographer Lothar Konietzko.

Encephalitis shouldn't cause panic

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

Despite the alarm raised in Windsor and its environs about the danger of encephalitis to residents, persons in the area should not panic, according to the chief microbiologist for the People's Community Hospital Authority (PCHA).

George Fearnough, who operates microbiology labs for the PCHA hospitals, including Annapolis in Wayne and Beyer Memorial in Ypsilanti, said the danger of catching encephalitis is reason for concern but not irrational alarm.

"We have noticed an unusual number of cases of St. Louis encephalitis in the midwestern region recently," Fearnough said. "But there is no need for panic.

"This is the time of year when encephalitis most often strikes, because it is most commonly carried by mosquitoes in this area, and mosquitoes are breeding now."

"But chances are relatively small that the disease will be caught by any one individual."

Statistically, the chances are greater for individuals in the area to suffer injury or death in an automobile accident during the next few weeks than of catching the disease.

Encephalitis is a disease of the brain tissue caused by a virus most commonly carried by mosquitoes. The damage caused by the disease is due to an inflammation of the brain tissue, and its severity depends on a number of factors, including the strength and numbers of the virus attacking the brain, and the patient's ability to resist the disease.

Although they are hard to find, according to Fearnough, there are many individuals who may have caught the disease, fought it off and suffered no incapacitation.

"We have found people being examined for other problems who have antibodies in their system which are designed to fight the disease virus," Fearnough said. "Having the antibodies indicates that the person at one time or another was exposed to the disease, and may have even caught it."

The reason many may not even report having the disease is because its symptoms in a mild case are similar to a fatigue headache — headache, neck ache and back ache. In more severe cases, a victim may pass out or suffer from confusion. In the most severe cases, the victim lapses into a coma, and could suffer permanent brain damage or death.

At least one area resident, a football player on the Belleville High School varsity team, has contracted the disease.

Doctors report that Keith Breithaupt suffered from meningitis, a more specific term for a form of encephalitis.

Although there is no cure for most forms of encephalitis, according to Fearnough, bedrest and good nursing care are prescribed to limit the danger of suffering damage from the disease.

If there is a danger of encephalitis in this area, it may be because of groundwork laid in the spring.

According to George Fearnough, the Chief Microbiologist for the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA), mosquitoes which carry the disease today were bred primarily in the spring-time rains.

"Some areas are taking precautions against the disease by spraying now," Fearnough said. "But that will prove to be of limited value, because the time to get a mosquito in the spring, when you can get at breeding grounds, and not in the fall, when the insects are spread all around."

Combating encephalitis, actually an inflammation of the brain caused by certain virus strains carried by mosquitoes in most cases, is similar to combatting yellow fever — another mosquito-borne disease. "The mosquito is part of the disease cycle, and if the cycle is broken, the disease is stopped," Fearnough said.

In the late 19th and early 20th century, particularly during the Spanish-American War and the construction of the Panama Canal, yellow fever was the scourge of tropical areas. The disease finally was controlled when through the efforts of skilled epidemiologists, including Dr. Walter Reed, the mosquito was discovered as the carrier, and the insect was eradicated.

According to Fearnough, the St. Louis form of the disease, which has received the most media attention recently, can be controlled in the same manner.

Encephalitis actually is a broad term for an inflammation of the brain. The most commonly known forms of encephalitis are poliomyelitis, which killed and crippled hundreds of thousands of individuals until a vaccine was discovered by Dr. Jonas Salk, and meningitis.

In the case of polio, the inflammation of the brain would spread to the spinal column, and destroy motor nerves which in turn would cause paralysis.

In the case of meningitis, the disease settles in the meninges of the brain.

Different strains of virus cause each form of encephalitis.

The virus for the St. Louis strain of the disease lives one part of its life cycle in the systems of birds and reptiles, and another part in certain insects, particularly the mosquito, and only certain species of the mosquito.

The disease becomes dangerous to man when he is injected with the virus, which has a tendency to move to the central nervous system, and cause inflammation.

person should go out, they should wear protective clothing which covers most of their body and use an insect repellent to discourage the insects from lighting.

In addition, a person should keep his resistance up by avoiding fatigue.

Fearnough said that residents shouldn't be greatly concerned about the medical term of an "epidemic" of the disease hitting areas of the country, because the term refers to the relative incidence of the disease.

"This is the time of the year when encephalitis is most likely to strike," Fearnough said. "It becomes an epidemic when more cases than normal are recorded in the region."

"An example these days is polio. An epidemic of the disease in the Detroit area would be two or three cases now."

"Such an instance would be a cause for concern, and show the need to take precautions, but isn't a reason for panic."

Fearnough speculates that encephalitis may be making the news these days because it is not common to this area of the country.

Will he run again?

Crim torn between politics, family

By BOBBY BERG
Panax Lansing Writer

House Speaker Bobby D. Crim is wrestling with the biggest decision he has ever had to make.

The issue is the most basic of all: Whether to get out of politics. And he has to make it before the end of the year. It involves a conflict between two forces — a real love for the good parts of holding office and working in government versus a feeling he is cheating himself and his family with the financial and time sacrifices his job requires.

Whatever the Davison Democate decides to do will have a great impact on Michigan politics in the coming years. If he stays in politics he surely will run for governor in 1978. If he gets out, the party will have a vacuum to fill.

The decision is not just a philosophical one. Crim has two solid offers from businesses which would at least double the $24,000 he earns as speaker. And both jobs would require 40-50 hours a week for a 5-day week where the speakership is a 7-day job involving 70-80 hours.

He will be sitting down with representatives from each company soon to get their offers on paper. Then he will make up his mind.

There is a lack of financial stability and a lack of time with my family in this job," he said. "You know, we still live in the same house I bought in 1958 when I was going to school on the GI Bill. And it isn't paid for. With my current situation, I'm missing a lot of important time with my sons and I really can't offer them any help in furthering their education." Crim's sons are 21, 17 and 13.

"If I decide to stay in another two or four years, I'll have lost that time," he said.

He knows that a decision to serve another term as Speaker almost certainly means a try for the governorship in 1978.

"If I run for higher office, it definitely will be for governor," he added. "I'm not interested in the U.S. Senate. If I do that, I'm talking about two years of total effort running for governor. In four years my youngest son will be graduating from high school. If I go through the campaign then I've lost that period of time."

There are skeptics who only will believe Crim if and when he decides irrevocably not to run. They point to his years in politics and all the hard work he has invested in reaching his current position. His handling of legislation in the House this year has made him the clear favorite, at least among legislative Democrats, if he runs for the gubernatorial nomination in 1978. They find it hard to believe anyone who has come so far would voluntarily give it all up.

Crim acknowledges this. "I realize if I decide to run for another term people are going to say 'we knew it all along, he was just going through the motions,'" he said. "It is hard for some people to think that my greatest ambition might not be the governorship."

Free masons observe founder' Bicentennial

Seventy members of St. John Chapter 44 F. & A.M. of Romulus joined fellow free masons from throughout the state this week in observing the birthday of Prince Hall, the founder of the organization.

The gathering was held on Sunday in Flint. Prince Hall, with 14 other black freemasons, were made master masons in 1775, establishing the foundation for freemasonry 200 years ago, an event that occurred almost 1½ years before the formation of the United States.

Hall, accompanied by several other free masons, petitioned General George Washington to allow the enlistment of free blacks into the Revolutionary Army, a request granted in December 1775.

Through his effort in opening up the army enlistment, Hall and about 3,000 other free blacks joined in the battle for independence.

Hall also pressed demands for the Massachusetts Legislature to establish a public system of education for black children. He established a school for black children in his own home.

He established the Order of Freemasonry through direct application and subsequent chartering from the Grand Lodge of England.

In honor of their founder members of Free and Accepted Masons (F. & A.M.) lodges declared last Sunday for Hall to mark his Bicentennial anniversary in the freemasonry movement.

Insulate!

At the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, Michigan Consolidated is again offering a low-cost home ceiling insulation program designed to conserve Natural Gas and hold down heating costs.

Last year, nearly 42,400 Michigan Consolidated customers installed ceiling insulation, saving over one billion cubic feet of Natural Gas, and cut their home heating costs by up to 17%.

These results were gratifying indeed. Enough Natural Gas was conserved to heat over 7,600 additional homes this winter.

If you still haven't taken advantage of this easy, low-cost program, now's the time to act. Many homeowners can install insulation themselves for about $125. Our free handbook tells you how. Get your copy at any Michigan Consolidated Business Office, most building supply outlets or write or call us.

Or, we can have the job done for you by one of our participating subcontractors and add the cost to your monthly gas bills. The cost? About $250 for homes with less than 1,000 sq. ft. of ceiling area. You can pay cash. Or, you can pay over an extended period at an interest rate of 1% monthly on the unpaid balance. (ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE OF 12%.)

So why not save money in your attic this winter with our low-cost ceiling insulation program? You'll be cutting your heating costs up to 17% and helping our country conserve its Natural Gas supplies, too.

Sheriffs seek help in solving murder case

The Wayne County Sheriff's Department is asking for citizen help in solving the mysterious murder of a Taylor man in Romulus.

Detectives Dale Orth and Edward Linberg of the investigative division of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol are hoping that belongings of Edwin Carl Carlton, who was murdered sometime between Sept. 3 and 4, will turn up and lead them to suspects. According to Det. Orth, a list of personal items belonging to the 20-year-old murder victim has been released to area police departments. Carlton's body was found in a field near Wick Road and Wayne Road in Romulus at 6:45 p.m. Sept. 4—less than 20 hours after he disappeared while making a 1½-mile journey from his girlfriend's home to his own home on Champagne Street in Taylor.

Missing from the scene were a silver identification bracelet with the engraving "Ed and Jan" with a symbol used for "and," a brown leather wrist band with "Eddie" stamped on it and a blue sapphire ring with a silver band.

Det. Orth said that the murder apparently happened after a chance meeting between the victim and the killer, somewhere near the intersection of Beech Daly Road and Ecorse Road in Taylor.

The victim's clothing, minus his personal effects, were found in the car, leading police to believe it was driven back to the market site.

Candidate resigns from council race

One of the 14 candidates who made it into Romulus' general election run-off wants to resign from the race.

Jeffery Dahlstrom, who found the rent on his Romulus apartment too much to bear, is leaving the city next week for an apartment in Taylor.

"It's a case of where I was paying more for a 1-bedroom apartment and not having enough room for my wife, Paula, and my son, Eric," Dahlstrom said. "I hate to leave the race now, but I've found more room at a smaller rent, and have to be in by the first week in October."

Dahlstrom, who finished 13th in the council race said he sought apartments within the city, but found the rent either prohibitive or the landlords objecting to children.

"It's really ironic, but I'm just moving across Inkster Road from Romulus into a new place," Dahlstrom said. "That's the closest I could find to the city."

An employee of the Romulus Board of Education, Dahlstrom is a 13-year resident of the city and has been active in some of the city's civic clubs, including the Key Club of the Romulus Kiwanis.

Romulus City Clerk Leonard Folmar, who received a letter from Dahlstrom detailing his reasons for withdrawing, is researching city and state election laws to determine whether the candidate's name must appear on the ballot.

If Dahlstrom's name is removed from the ballot, only 13 candidates will be on the November general election ballot. There is no provision in the law, according to Folmar, to replace a candidate's name with another candidate who was not chosen in the top 14 in the primary.

Credit goes to others

To the editor: In regards to The Belleville Enterprise front page article titled, "Old Fair" gets in mood of Bicentennial" printed Sept. 17, 1975, I wish to compliment said newspaper for its efforts in coverage regarding Van Buren Township Hall's 100th Birthday celebration Sept. 20, and further compliment the City of Belleville and Van Buren Township which jointly worked so hard making Sept. 20 a holiday both communities could enjoy.

In respect to said article there was an error — I am sure an honest misprint — whereby it was printed that George Craven and Mrs. Jan Wyman were responsible for the organization of the township hall's 100th birthday.

In fact and truth the celebration of the 100th birthday of the old town hall — due credit goes to Mrs. Marilyn Montgomery and Mrs. Pat Cullin, Van Buren Township Bicentennial co-chairpersons and to all those other fine people whose brains, efforts, energies and imagination made it all possible.

In respect to the Belleville Enterprise the mix up came about honestly, I am sure.

In communication with The Enterprise credit was given by Mrs. Pat Cullin, Township Clerk in a statement to The Enterprise on Sept. 10 praising Mr. Craven and Mrs. Wyman for their "untiring efforts" towards gaining the old town hall in the State Register of Historic Sites listed Nov. 15, 1973.

Considering this landmark event for our hall as one of 900 sites throughout the State of Michigan by The Michigan Historical Commission the township officials by letter July 15th, 1975 congratulated the former Old Town Hall Committee. Mrs. Cullin quoted to The Belleville Enterprise on Sept. 10 complimenting the "great attempts made by Mr. Craven to gain a federal grant to assist the township in a renovating program for the town hall."

I am proud to have served on this committee with Mr. Craven. His background as a professional architect was a brilliant asset to the committee and his concentration of time and energy expended in respect to the citizens of Van Buren was most praiseworthy.

I saw Mr. Craven on Sept. 18 and he was as surprised as I that we were mentioned as hosts for the 100th birthday celebration.

Because a principle is involved here the successful 100th birthday celebration of the old town hall credit belongs to the Van Buren Bicentennial Commission and most particularly according to Mrs. Pat Cullin, clerk, in comment to me, the real hero of this event was Mrs. Marilyn Montgomery!

I have done many things for which I have never received credit knowing this is a part of life's game. But, this is the first time in my life I've received credit for something I didn't do!

Mrs. Jan Wyman
of Van Buren

Dear Mrs. Wyman: The Enterprise-Roman really blew it with that story. Not only did we give credit to the wrong people, as you pointed out, but we also neglected to publicize the fact that the Covered Wagon also would be in town Saturday.

We apologize for those errors. It was simply carelessness on our part. Everyone makes mistakes and so do newspapers. And when we do, we'll admit it.

Smith appreciates Davis

To the editor: It is most refreshing to know that we still have newspaper people who are thirsty for knowledge and for ideas which might be fostered by others, and who are so willing to give deserving recognition to individuals who are conscientious and enterprising.

Your editorial comment about Mr. Ernest U. Davis and his interest in what is going on about us, was most appropriate and you deserve a healthy pat on the back for your kindly attitude toward his efforts.

I, too, have received much reading matter from Mr. Davis over the past 10 years or so, most of which I consider very timely, informative and thought provoking.

Indeed, it is unfortunate that most people do not have the selfless interest which Mr. Davis so ably personifies; indeed, it is to him and others like him (as well as yourself for your public recognition of his thoughtfulness) that we owe a debt of gratitude.

of Romulus Township

Township action upsets sportsman

To the editor: It should be obvious to the sportsmen of Van Buren that our Township Board of Trustees is as sneaky a bunch that we ever had the misfortune to elect.

Just a short time before one of the best hunting seasons that has been projected, our board — in its collective wisdom — decides to ban hunting on the lake.

This action is not due to any danger to residents, I believe, but more likely a few bleeding heart anti-hunters are responsible, the board being among them.

Isn't it time we made this bunch aware of the sportsmen in the township? Perhaps a recall is the answer.

So you're a poet!

By LUCY WIESEND
Enterprise-Roman Editor

Although there are many aspiring poets in Belleville, Van Buren Township, Sumpter Township and Romulus area, they have no outlet for their creativity. In the past, The Enterprise-Roman most always rejected anything of a poetic nature. Local residents had sent us poetry, requesting that it be published in the newspaper. We had a policy against such contributions.

But no longer.

We will be publishing locally-written poetry, so that those aspiring poets will be able to share their creativity with their neighbors and friends and with their community newspaper.

You may ask: Why the change in policy?

It's simple. We aim to be more receptive to the people we serve.

We aim to give your community newspaper more of a homey touch. And we aim to get more community members involved with their newspaper.

You'll be finding local historians writing columns for the Bicentennial on the history of Romulus and Belleville-Van Buren.

Soon, columns by local high school students will be appearing in the paper, and — from time to time — local officials and well-known figures will be asked to contribute to their newspaper.

The Enterprise-Roman always is open for other opinions. We urge residents to send us letters to be published in the "As they see it" column. And now we are urging local poets to send us their material for publication.

That poetry will be published in your hometown weekly as a service to the resident poet and as a treat to other readers.

Questions about the new poetry policy, letters or columns should be directed to me at 729-4000. Or better yet, stop by our office for a visit. I'd love to show you our operation, our presses and help you understand how your community newspaper is created.

Give me a call, or stop by to meet me and the other individuals who are putting in an all-out effort to provide you with interesting reading.

INFLATION: It's here, getting worse

By STAN OPOTOWSKY
Panax Special Columnist

It's not that inflation still is with us, but rather that it is getting worse.

There seems to be no way to stem the tide. At the very moments that the danger signs are waving throughout the nation, one selfish force after another grabs for more boodle and fuels the fires even more.

Some operate in total hypocrisy. Take the longshoremen, who say that they object to loading grain for shipment to the Russians because it will send up the cost of bread.

Ha! The concern of the longshoreman's union for the public good is touching, a mite unexpected — and totally phony. The Russian grain sale will increase our costs. But not nearly as much as the union's featherbedding and the federal regulations which the shipping industry have lobbied into law to fatten paychecks and profits at the very expense of the American consumer.

But, of course, the longshoremen are not alone. The devoted cops of San Francisco deserted their posts and urged the firemen out with them. To protect their starving families? Hardly. Rather, to force a settlement which gives the cops as much as $29,000 a year each with fringe benefits.

Now that's really inflation. But the guardians of the public good really didn't react too sharply because they were too busy getting theirs. In one state legislature after another there were end-of-the-session bills fattening the payrolls and increasing pay and benefits for — guess who? — the legislators themselves.

The nation's businessmen have reached the point where they don't even attempt to combat inflation. They've given up.

The Enterprise-Roman is committed to bringing the Bicentennial closer to our readers. And as part of that effort, a series, "The Michigan Big Story," will be published weekly. The 76-part series includes topics which contributed to the shaping and direction of the State of Michigan. The impact which this series is certain to have will provide a legacy for future generations of readers as they look back on what we did to celebrate the Bicentennial in Michigan, according to the Michigan Revolution Bicentennial Commission. The series is being prepared by the commission.

DETROIT (Jan. 5, 1837) — The Michigan Legislature today received a plan for free public education from Supt. of Public Instruction Dr. John Pierce.

The plan, over two years in the making now will be studied by the Legislature.

The basic idea for a centralized educational system follows a recently published study of the Prussian educational structure.

Dr. Pierce noted the main points of the plan, "When admitted to this Union, as we daily expect, we will have the only statewide department of education, under a superintendent whose sole concern is education," he said.

Pierce added that state funding and a library in each district are two other unprecedented elements of the as proposed.

Pierce added that state funding and a library in each district are two other unprecedented elements of the plan, as proposed.

When asked about state control, Pierce replied "continuance of a republic such as ours depends on educating all of our citizens. This can only be done through a free system of State supported education, of good quality and open to all, rich or poor."

Congressman-elect Isaac Crary was instrumental in helping devise this unique educational plan.

Pizza and tacos lead off school lunch listing

On tap for students eating in the cafeterias of the Van Buren public schools will be such edibles as ground beef and gravy over mashed potatoes, pizza, tacos and grilled cheese sandwiches.

Monday the menu in the elementary schools will include soup, hamburgers on buns, french fries, fruit jello and milk, followed by juice, ground beef in gravy over mashed potatoes, vegetables, bread and butter and milk on Tuesday.

Next Wednesday the cafeteria will be serving soup, pizza or tacos, salad or cole slaw, cobbler and milk, with chili, hot dogs on buns, french fries, pudding, fruit and milk set for next Thursday.

Topping off the week will be juice, grilled cheese sandwiches, tator tots, fruit jello, cookies and milk.

In the senior and junior high schools the menu for Monday will be Italian spaghetti with meat sauce, vegetables, bread and butter, ice bird and milk, with the Belleville burger as the alternate selection.

On Tuesday the cafeterias will be serving steak sandwiches, french fries, cake fruit and milk with melted ham and cheese sandwiches as the second choice.

Next Wednesday the cafeteria will be offering juice, roast pork over mashed potatoes and gravy, vegetables, bread and butter, pudding and milk, with double burgers with cheese as the B selection, while next Thursday the menu will be beef-o-roni, tossed salad, bread and butter, fruit, cobbler and milk, with the foot-long coney island as the second selection.

On next Friday the menu will include fried clam rolls with tartar sauce, tator tots, fruit jello, cake and milk with Belleville burgers as the B choice.

For students attending the Romulus Community Schools the menu Monday will include coney island hot dogs with potato chips, a buttered vegetable, bread and butter, mixed fruit and milk, followed by John Marzetta, buttered peas, bread and butter, applesauce and milk on Tuesday.

Next Wednesday the cafeterias will be serving sloppy joes and hot dogs, buttered corn, rolls and butter and milk, while next Thursday the offering will be whipped potatoes with meat gravy, green beans, bread and butter, orange juice and milk. Topping off the week will be toasted cheese sandwiches, vegetable soup, tomato soup, bread and butter, fruit jello and milk.

Easter Seal Society hails 2 waitresses

Two area women and one area business received awards for their work in raising funds for the Easter Seal Society.

Gertrude Noeyack and Mrs. Allen Stewart, both waitresses, received awards from the Easter Seal Society for being among the top money-earners in the society's annual "Coffee Day" fund-raising competition.

In addition, Flagg's Restaurant in Romulus received an award as being the top money-earner among business concerns participating in the same program.

Money was raised in the program by the sale of special "coffee day" buttons to customers at restaurants throughout southeastern Michigan. Purchasers paid $1 apiece for the buttons, which entitle them to a day of free coffee at restaurants on Good Friday of each year. In the competition Mrs. Noeyack came in second from throughout the southeastern Michigan area while Mrs. Stewart took fourth-place honors.

Top-money earner was Ann Bailey, an employee of the Red Barn in Detroit. Taking third place was Josephine Agrusan of Dearborn, an employee of the Landmark Restaurant in Allen Park.

The four waitresses and the owners of Flagg's feted in an awards and election banquet, sponsored by the Eastern Seal Society, in Romulus.

The awards took place at the Sheraton Metro Inn in Romulus.

At the same meeting, members of the Easter Seal Society elected their directors for the coming year.

Jaycees host teen pageant

Teen-aged girls in Belleville will have a chance to capture the title of the community's Junior Miss when the Belleville Jaycees again sponsor the annual pageant at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 25.

The competition will be held at Belleville High School and is open to any senior girl in the community. Applications for the contest are available in the high school office.

For the past four years representatives of the city have placed in the regional competition and advanced to the state pageant.

The Jaycees are hoping to increase the monetary value of the scholarship given to the winning contestant and have put in $300. However, due to the rising cost of education, the group is hoping to increase that figure.

Persons wishing to contribute to the prize fund can contact Lester Hall, chairman of the pageant, at 484-1725.

Park closes earlier

Area residents now will have less time to enjoy recreational facilities along Edward Hines Drive, following recent authorization by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to close the park 1 1/2 hours earlier.

The early closing at 10 p.m. instead of 11:30 p.m. was approved by the county commissioners because of reported vandalism and littering.

Edward Hines Drive, also known as Middle Rouge Parkway, parallels the Rouge River from Northville to Ford and Evergreen roads in Dearborn.

The county commissioners also authorized the Wayne County Road Commission which operates the county park system, to impose the earlier closing at other county parks.

In addition, the board appropriated $1,800 for the installation of a 6-foot chain fence to close off the entrance to Hillview Drive from Inkster Road. Access to Hines Drive from Inkster Road will not be affected.

Law enforcement units in communities located along the Middle Rouge Parkway, as well as the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, have been plagued by reported incidents of vandalism, unruly park users, rowdiness, drinking and drug parties.

The Hillview Drive area has been closed for several years due to problems which abutting property owners have had with unruly park users, a Wayne County Road Commission spokesman said, adding that previous barriers, such as boulders, have not been effective.

Educators survey "200th"

Meet seeks classroom plans

Upwards of 500 educators from across Michigan will attend a 2-day conference Friday and Saturday in Dearborn on American Revolution Bicentennial programs and activities for the classroom.

Michigan Lt. Gov. James J. Damman, chairman of the Michigan American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, will serve as chairman of the ABCDE (American Bicentennial Conference in Dearborn for Educators), sponsored by the Michigan Department of Education, the Dearborn public schools and the Edison Institute (Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum). The keynote address Friday will be given by Carol Evans of Detroit, national board member of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA), at the Henry Ford Museum Theater on Oakwood Blvd. Russ Gibb, ARBA director of youth and education, will be the main speaker at Saturday's session, held at Stout Junior High School, 18500 Oakwood Blvd.

Educators attending the conference will take part in two of 21 workshops, including English and the Bicentennial, science and the Bicentennial, organizing a student Bicentennial handicraft fair and writing local history.

Clerk hails legislature

Wayne County Clerk James F. Killen has hailed as "a step in the right direction" the State Legislature's lowering of the age at which senior citizens may vote by absentee ballot.

Public Act 178 of 1975 lowers the age at which senior citizens may vote by absentee ballot from 62 to 60.

The act will take effect about next April 1, in advance of the August primary and November presidential elections.

He estimated that some 43,000 more Wayne County voters will be eligible to vote by absentee ballot under the new statute. There are approximately 1,435,772 registered voters in Wayne County.

Killen predicted the Legislature's action will have a "substantial impact" on the participation of voters in the 60-62 age range in next year's November election.

"Inclement weather and long lines discourage many senior citizens from voting in presidential elections," he said. "Now many older people who might otherwise stay home will have a convenient way to vote."

Persons who are incapacitated or who will be out of town on election day also are eligible to vote by absentee ballot. Voters obtain absentee ballots from their local city or township clerk.

Hearing to help funding

Public hearings to discuss the needs of handicapped individuals are being held in four Michigan cities this week.

Information from the hearings will be used to help determine how federal funds for the handicapped are spent in Michigan. Currently, more than $4,000,000 is available for developing new projects, the State Board of Education said.

The hearings began in Marquette Monday, followed by Grand Rapids and Lansing yesterday and Romulus from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. tomorrow at Hilton Inn.

With Panax Corp.

Anderson fills V-P position

The president of Panax Corp., John McGoff, has appointed Robert Anderson as acting group vice-president for the Panax Chicago newspaper and printing group. James A. Linen IV tendered his resignation, effective Sept. 15, as group vice-president of the Chicago group and as a member of the executive committee. However, he will continue as a director of the corporation. The resignation was accepted by the Board of Directors. "The experience these past few years with Panax has been a tremendous one for me and I have enjoyed it immensely," Linen said. "I feel the merger of Panax Publishing division and Panax Corp. has been a success. However, now that my task is completed I intend to spend full time for a period on family and personal business interests." McGoff said: "(Jim) Linen has been an asset to Panax through some troubled times, we will continue to have a positive relationship and I wish him the best of luck in his new ventures."

Anderson, 48, the new acting group vice-president for Chicago has been with that division for 23 years.

"(Bob) Anderson has had a very successful track record and a variety of management positions throughout his career," McGoff added. "We look forward to working with Bob in the future and expect to continue to exploit the tremendous potential of the Chicago market." Anderson has been senior vice-president of the Chicago division responsible for all departmental operations. During his career with Panax Publishing, he served at various times as editor, circulation manager, retail advertising manager, advertising director, production manager and promotion manager.

Anderson is a graduate of the University of Chicago and is married with three children. Panax Corp. is the parent company of Associated Newspapers which publishes The Daily Eagle and its affiliated papers — The Canton Eagle, The Belleville Enterprise and The Romulus Roman.

Trio ends visit

Three Romulus residents have completed a summer orientation program, held recently at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo. LeAnna E. Silvey, Vicki L. Szyndlar and William L. VanScyoc took part in the program in which new students visit the campus for three days in groups of 180 to meet faculty advisors, register for classes, take a battery of tests and become accustomed to the campus.

Districts net full state aid

Michigan's nearly 600 kindergarten-12 and non-kindergarten-12 school districts will receive their full state school aid allotments for the 1975-76 school year, according to the State Board of Education.

The state board said a ruling by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley will make it unnecessary to withhold approximately $7 million in State School Aid funds from local school districts. Kelley last week ruled that the proposed withholding of 1 percent of General Fund appropriations as a contingency reserve was unconstitutional.

"As a result of the Attorney General's ruling, we are processing October state aid payments to local school districts at the full amount appropriated by the Legislature," a state board spokesman said.

The state board said the October school aid payment will be made in two payments — Oct. 1 and Nov. 1 — and that bi-monthly payments will be resumed in December.

Normally, state school aid checks are sent to school districts six times a year but the October payment is being split into two payments because of the state's cash flow problems.

Martin to serve on board

The director of special education in the Romulus Community School District has been elected to the Board of Directors for the Michigan Association for Retarded Children.

Dr. Lee Martin will serve on that board. He also is a member and past president of the Inkster Board of Education.

ATTENTION ROMULUS A MESSAGE FROM James C. Stewart CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

JAMES C. STEWART
for MAYOR

Romulus is in the final weeks of a very important election.

Here are some vital questions and facts that should concern you during these weeks and the weeks to follow:

1. Did you know there are current behind-the-scenes activities going on to continue the $14,000,000.00 extravaganza that you soundly defeated in the recent Special Election.

This could only benefit a few hip-pocket consultants and thus finance additional fictitious political literature.

2. Don't you agree that city attorneys should confine their activities to legal advice and not push administration and council's pet projects such as: paying a city attorney to aid and abet the destruction of the community golf course.

3. The city has an engineering firm on a yearly retainer, an individual engineering consultant on a hourly retainer, and a building department head on a yearly salary — all 3 are stumbling over each other to get the same job done.

This is obvious padding of the payroll with your tax dollars. Ask yourself if this type of political patronage doesn't add to your taxes and contribute to the hap-hazard services in Romulus. Also ask yourself if this is a form of payment for past political favors.

4. The current election-day paving program was rushed through with many administrative loose ends just to influence the voter. Only a l-o-o-s-e spending administration and a "rubber stamp" council would allow this to happen.

$14,000,000.00 extravaganzas; behind-the-scenes activities; pet projects; padded payroll; tax increases; usage of tax collars for political purposes; are all definite reasons that can be added to that long list we already have which truly indicates...

Stop signs blamed for rapid fuel usage

Western Wayne County residents, wondering where the gas in their car is going can curse stop signs for the rapid fuel consumption.

According to the Automobile Club of Michigan (AAA), the elimination of one unnecessary traffic stop daily for each of the state's approximately 5.95 million motorists could save more than 17 million gallons of gasoline annually and reduce the cost by $11 million yearly.

"Needless stop signs and traffic lights not switched to flashing yellow phases during off-peak travel times not only are wasting fuel, but costing drivers valuable commuting time and adding to maintenance bills," said Arthur C. Gibson, manager of AAA's Safety and Traffic Engineering Department.

Gibson recommended that state, county and local highway officials begin a concentrated effort to eliminate needless stop signs and improve traffic light synchronization. AAA traffic engineers presently are conducting inventories of traffic control devices in several Michigan communities to determine their effectiveness.

Recent AAA studies in the Detroit suburbs of Berkley and Huntington Woods showed that approximately 260 unnecessary 4-way stop signs wasted 300,000 gallons of fuel in stop-and-go driving last year at a cost to motorists of between $150,000 and $180,000.

"These stop signs, which should be either phased out or changed to yield designations, also caused 29,000 motorist stops that added 93,000 hours behind the wheel last year," Gibson said.

He added that it takes .00815 gallons of gas to slow a vehicle from 25 miles per hour to a stop and accelerate again to 25. Unneeded idling consumes even more fuel.

"If every Michigan motorist makes just one unnecessary stop each day, this wastes more than 48,000 gallons of fuel, which at the current statewide average of more than 62 cents a gallon costs drivers an added $30,000," Gibson pointed out.

"On a yearly basis, this translates to more than 17 million gallons of fuel lost at a cost of $11 million," he added.

The AAA official said each needless stop adds about 11 seconds to commuting travel, or nearly seven million hours a year.

"Too often, cities utilize stop signs strictly as speed control devices instead of their intended purpose of controlling traffic volumes," Gibson continued. "This means thousands of useless stop signs costing millions of gallons of fuel." He added that many traffic lights are intended to be in operation only during specific periods and they should be changed to yellow flashing cycles when not needed.

"This is particularly true for signals that control school crossings, industrial and commercial traffic and rural traffic patterns," he said.

Gibson cited a signal light that remained in operation in front of a suburban Detroit school for nearly two months after classes had ended for the summer.

Cities can apply for federal funds to inventory and revise traffic signal devices. Auto Club is aiding communities in making these inventories.

Law figures funding on a special census

Growing Michigan communities won't have to wait for the next federal census in 1980 to receive their fair share of state tax dollars under legislation recently signed into law.

A new law incorporates a proposal to permit the distribution of state aid to local units of government based on a special census, conducted between federal decennial tallies.

"Without this provision, growing communities would continue to receive state aid based on the federal census of 1970 until the next federal census is taken in 1980," said Sen. William Faust (D-13th District). "Unfortunately, most communities can't afford to wait until 1980 to receive funds needed now to provide the expanded services required by population increases."

"Growth demands immediate funding to provide more police and fire protection, more sewers, more schools, more sophisticated systems of administration."

Faust pointed out that many communities he represents now receive state aid based on the 1970 federal census, despite large population increases.

"The population of Taylor, for example, increased more than 26 percent between 1970 and 1973, yet Taylor still receives state aid based on its 1970 population of 70,020," he added.

During that same period, the population of Canton Township increased 98.6 percent; Belleville, 44.6 percent; Van Buren Township, 36.8 percent; Northville Township, 28.1 percent and Romulus Township, 15.8 percent.

Under the new law, cities, villages and townships can become eligible for increased state aid if the local unit of government conducts a special census which shows that the population of the community has increased by at least 15 percent since the last census.

NBD opens new Lakewood branch

A wide-range of banking services now are available to area residents when National Bank of Detroit's permanent Lakewood office in Van Buren Township opened for business recently.

Replacing a temporary structure, the $440,000 facility is located in Lakewood Shopping Center on Rawsonville Road and I-94.

This branch offers extended banking hours for greater customer convenience — from 9:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and until 7:30 p.m. on Friday. Drive-in windows are open every weekday from 8:30 a.m. until 7:30 p.m. and from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. on Saturdays.

"Our welcome mat is out. This is a rapidly growing area and we're happy to be a part of the community," said Jerald E. Krause, Lakewood branch manager.

The new office also features four drive-in windows, five regular teller windows and safety deposit boxes.

Community officials and bank representatives will participate in a formal opening celebration Oct. 15. A branch contest with a color TV as prize will be announced at the opening.

Belleville awaits Allen Park

Stokes: 'We don't have any quitters'

Coaches learn a lot about their teams in defeat.

Pat Stokes, Belleville's first year head football coach did on Friday when the Tigers bowed to Dearborn 21-7 in their Suburban 8 Conference opener.

"We could have folded when Dearborn had a substantial lead on us," said Stokes, "but we didn't. In that last quarter Dearborn had a couple of good scoring opportunities and our defense refused to quit."

"We don't have any quitters on this team, that's why I'm proud of them," Stokes added.

The loss left the Tigers carrying a 0-2 record as they prepare to meet a visiting Allen Park contingent Friday night. (Kickoff is set for 8 p.m.)

Allen Park also dropped its league opener. The Jaguars were shut out by Livonia Bentley 21-0.

Belleville's defense, led by Brezeale, Randy Slocum and Tom Laine, held the Tigers scoreless the first 12 minutes of the game, but the hosts broke the knot midway in the second quarter when they fumbled the ball into the endzone and Dave Johnson recovered for the TD.

Steve Wallace boosted the margin to 7-0 when he connected on the point after.

Belleville countered immediately after the ensuing kickoff as quarterback Dan Scripser engineered a 73-yard sustained drive that was capped with a 9-yard scoring pass to slotback Mark Cornett.

Sports

Dan Theodore's extra point kick deadlocked the game at 7-7.

"I feel we played an excellent first half," said Stokes. "It was a different story however in the third period. I feel that a combination of mental mistakes led to our problems."

In the last two quarters, Belleville managed only one first down.

Dearborn broke the deadlock early in the third stanza when quarterback Frank Fuja hooked up with Lee Capatina on a 33-yard pass-run touchdown. That hurt. Belleville had the Pioneers in a fourth and eight situation.

Wallace turned it into a 14-7 game with the conversion.

Belleville helped its own demise when the Tigers mishandled the ensuing kick and was forced to put the ball in play on their own 7-yard line. Then, on the first play from scrimmage they fumbled the ball over to the Pioneers.

Dearborn took possession on the Tiger 11 and the Fuja-to-Capatina combination clicked again. That touchdown pass covered 11-yards.

The Pioneers managed to penetrate three times inside Belleville's 20-yard line in the final 12-minutes of the game, but the Tiger defense held steadfastly.

"We could have folded easily, but we didn't," reiterated Stokes.

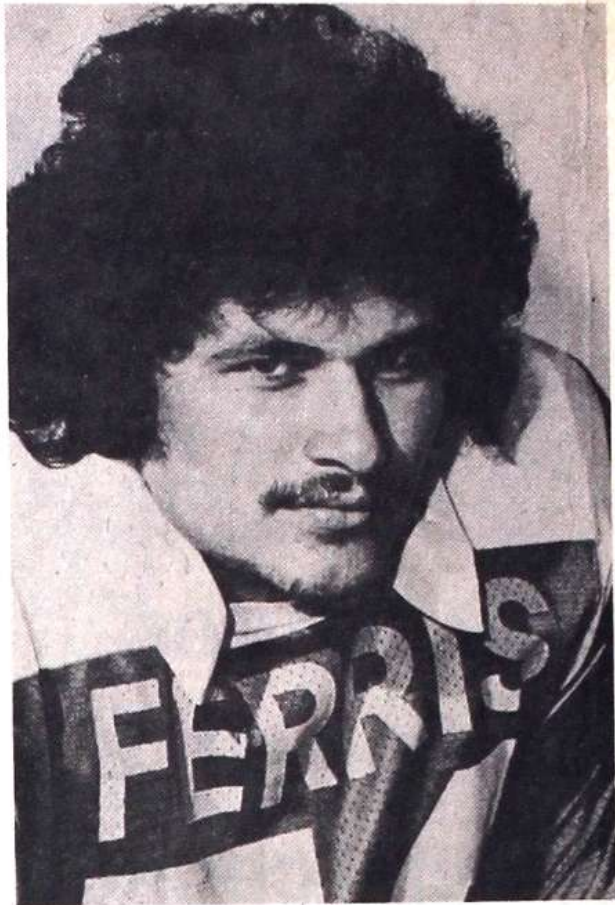

Scripser hit his target seven of 18 times and had a net passing game of 54 yards while Theodore also got off a halfback pass which was good for 20-yards. Scripser rushed seven times and gained 39 yards and Theodore had six rushes for 37 yards.

Belleville's Harold Dennis picked off a third period pass to stall one Dearborn drive and Russ Hooks caught three Tiger passes which were good for 48 yards. That brings Hook's total for the two games to 120-yards.

Defensively, Laine accounted for eight solo tackles and had an equal number of assisted tackles. Brezeale had a combination of 16 solos and assists.

"The next couple of weeks we will be playing teams in our class," said Stokes, "and I feel we're as ready as can be for these teams."

BACK IN ACTION — Sophomore linebacker Jamie Hinojosa missed his freshman year of competition at Ferris State College but he has muscled his way into a starting job this season. Jamie prepped at New Boston Huron where he earned letters in football and baseball.

Cougars find Colts are tough

Won-lost-tied.

The Belleville Cougars had all three combinations in their little league encounters with the Northville Colts.

The Cougar Freshmen tamed the Colts 19-7, but the Junior Varsity succumbed 12-0 while the Varsity managed to salvage a 6-6 tie.

In the freshmen game, Northville's Bob Benedict scooted 65-yards on a kickoff return to put the Colts up by six early in the game. Tom McLaughlin scored the extra point.

And they threatened again late in the quarter when they drove inside the Belleville 20-yard line but a fumble, recovered by Frank McDaniel, stopped the threat.

Trailing 7-0 at intermission, Belleville's defense closed the gap to 7-6 when Jim Daniels' interception set up a score. Quarterback Sam Villa handed off to Scott Thompson who meandered 55-yards for the Cougars first TD.

Belleville erased the one-point deficit in the fourth quarter on a Villa to tight end Frank McDaniel pass which covered 45-yards and gave the Cougars a 7-6 edge.

Villa also accounted for the extra point, making it 13-7.

Belleville got an insurance touchdown late in the final stanza when Artie Messer recovered a Colt fumble. On the first play from scrimmage Villa hooked up with Jim Daniels on a 41-yard pass-run TD play.

The Junior Varsity wasted Dennis Fry's 45-yard run as the Cougars lost a 12-0 decision. Scoreless the first half, the Colts galloped to TD's in the third and fourth periods.

The Cougars needed a second quarter touchdown to salvage a 6-6 tie with the Colts' Varsity Unit. The Colts got on the board first thanks to Dave Greer's touchdown and protected a 6-0 lead until midway in the second period.

In that quarter Mark Daroci scored the equalizer and the two defensive units held on.

Late in the game Harold Beitzin came up with a game-saving fumble and as he pounced on a Northville turnover to stop a Colts drive.

The Cougars will stage their Homecoming Game on Saturday, with ceremonies beginning at 5:30 p.m. at Belleville High.

All former Cougar players are invited to attend the game. They should register at the concession stand upon arrival, according to Dianna Mc-Daniel, Cougar public relations person.

Although the freshmen suffered their first loss of the season, Belleville's Cougars managed to salvage two of the three football victories against the Garden City Panthers.

The Panthers blanked the Cougar freshmen 6-0 as the winners cut a scoreless knot in the final quarter with a 3-yard quarterback sneak.

However, the Cougars'

Junior Varsity throttled their rivals 19-0. The Cougars got on the scoreboard in the second quarter when quarterback Dave LeBlanc handed off to John Smolen who found a hole off tackle and sprinted in for the touchdown from 10-yards out.

LeBlanc ran the extra point.

Late in the second quarter, LeBlanc hooked up with Kerry O'Keefe on a 30-yard scoring pass play which gave the Cougars their second TD.

AUTO FACTS

by Jr. Kosin

In a car equipped with an automatic transmission, be sure the gearshift lever is firmly set in the park position — this is especially important if your car will not start. If the starter does not work in park, try neutral, but be sure to have your foot on the brake pedal. If it still does not work, jiggle the gearshift lever to both sides of the neutral position. A safety switch connected to the lever may have become misaligned so that it cuts the starting circuit, even when the indicator appears to be correctly positioned.

Everything you need to keep your foreign or domestic car running at its best is available at KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster. Our knowledgeable staff gives fast, friendly and expert counter service. Skilled machinists in our machine shop turn brake drums, do valve work, and even rebuild engines. KOSIN'S specializes in all kinds of parts and accessories for foreign cars as well as all domestic car needs. We are open daily from 8 A.M. until 8 P.M., and on Saturdays until 5 P.M. Call us at 563-3894, or stop in at the "House of a Million Parts".

AUTO FACT:

Test the battery's charge by turning on headlights and trying to start the car. If the lights burn brightly, the battery should be fine.

Belleville stuns Plymouth golfers

Plymouth Salem has been a thorn in Belleville's golf sides and last week the Tigers yanked that thorn loose.

Coach Scott Wilson's linksmen posted an impressive 168-171 victory over Salem, ending a long victory drought.

"None of us can recall when we beat them last," said Wilson. "The kids were saying that we hadn't beaten a Plymouth golf team in at least the past six years."

Salem had the meet medalist in Mike Mullen who shot a 40, 4-over-par at Salem Hills. One stroke back were Belleville's twosome of Rick Muse and Greg Cicotte.

Belleville's Jeff Kelly and John Batzer supported the leaders with 43's.

The victory evened up Belleville's Suburban 8 Conference record at 1-1 and they're 2-1 on the season.

Huron ends drought

Chiefs fall to Flat Rock, 27-6

The touchdown drought has ended at New Boston Huron.

Now rookie Chief coach Tom LaBeau wants his first victory.

It was 11 games ago when Huron gridders crossed the enemy's goal line and Friday night the Chiefs scored their first TD in nearly two years in losing to Flat Rock 27-6.

"We were pleased with the offense this week," said LaBeau who is preparing to take his team up against Tecumseh, the defending Huron Conference champ.

"We executed better and moved the ball well, and there was a marked improvement in our over-all offense," LaBeau continued. "However, our defense wasn't as sharp as we felt it could be."

Huron broke the touchdown drought in the fourth quarter when Russ Ikard nabbed a 3-yard pass from quarterback Craig Beattie to climax a 60-yard drive with one minute left in the game.

The key play that kept the Chiefs moving was another pass, this one from Beattie to Rich Miller that covered 35-yards.

The game was out of reach by then, however. The Rocks scored a touchdown in the first quarter and built up a 14-0 halftime lead before accumulating single TD's in the final two periods.

Beattie was on target with 11 of his 20 aerials for 128 yards and the one touchdown, his finest performance since taking over the QB slot a year ago.

Jeff Stoker was the recipient of four of those tosses which accounted for 48-yards while Kurt Schultz snared two passes for 20-yards and Rick Miller had one for 37.

Rick Elkins was the Chiefs' leading rusher as he had 13 attempts for 33 yards. Elkins also contributed defensively as a "noseman," counting three solo tackles and 15 assists.

Paul Teague, a linebacker, also received credit for three solos and 12 assists while Steve Morris, a tackle, had 10 assists and two assists.

In the duel of first downs, Huron came out on top 13-11, however, the Chiefs had only 85 yards rushing to Flat Rock's 230. The New Boston gridders also committed four costly turnovers.

U-D cage clinic has top coaches

A panel of the top high school coaches in the area has been added as a feature of the 1975 University of Detroit Basketball Coaches Clinic, scheduled for Saturday at the U-D Memorial Building.

The panel session, where clinic visitors will be able to question the prep coaches, will be held at 4 p.m., following the regular portion of the program.

Coaches on the panel include: Fred Thomann, Plymouth Salem, whose team reached the Class A state semi-finals last year; Bob Shoemaker, Detroit St.

Andrew, Catholic League Champion; Jim Spivey, Detroit Cass Tech, City League champ and George Duncan, Detroit Murray Wright, City League runnerup.

"We are very happy that we have been able to get these outstanding coaches to join us," said Dick Vitale, U-D head coach and clinic coordinator.

"This adds an extra dimension to our clinic — instead of just listening to lectures, the coaches in attendance will be able to get involved in a question-and-answer session."

An Open Letter

To Terry L. Troutt, Mayor of Romulus

FROM: Clayton Meldrum

Since the primary election on Sept. 8, I have had the opportunity to evaluate the election results and the candidates who were nominated.

I have gone to the extents of checking and re-checking the statements by your opponent and the official records of your administration. Let me explain the reason for my personal investigation.

During my campaign in the primary, I promised my many supporters and friends, who put their hearts and hard work behind my own efforts, that I would do everything in my power to fulfill their trust in me. I am sorry that I lost. But I feel in my own conscience that I still must do whatever I can to help give my supporters and the Citizens of Romulus the kind of government they deserve.

After talking to many citizens in Romulus, I have discovered that your opponent is making conflicting and contradictory statements and promises to different groups of people. I am very sorry to see that he is telling different groups only what they wish to hear.

I have also checked the record of your administration for the last two years in office. Although we have not agreed on everything in the past, I must admit publicly in this open letter to you and to the Citizens of Romulus that you have been accurate and truthful in the statements you have made to the people.

Because I value the truth above everything else in politics, I am asking all my supporters, who put their trust in me during my campaign, to join me in supporting you for re-election. I feel that we must put any past differences aside in the best interest of our City and work together for progress.

Again, I would like to thank all my supporters for their help and loyalty, and I am looking forward for the continued success of our City.

Thank you, and wishing you well in the November 4 General Election.

Very truly,

Clayton Meldrum

Work delay may show expansion unneeded

The delay in construction of a new runway in Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus may show that the extra runway is not needed.

According to Jerrold Fadem, the attorney who won a permanent injunction against construction of a new northeast-southwest runway in the airport until the Wayne County Road Commission files both a master plan for the airport and an environmental impact statement on the effects of both that master plan and the construction of the runway, has informed Romulus officials that the trend in aviation shows there never may be a need for airport expansion.

Fadem informed the

CUFA hails work done by volunteer

Communities United for Action Inc. has honored Barbara Derwinski of Romulus for her "outstanding volunteer work."

Miss Derwinski was presented the award by H. Carl Hollis, CUFA deputy director last Tuesday, her last day of service to the agency. She has assisted in clerical work at the CUFA Central Office on Goddard Road in Taylor since July 3.

"Barbara never was late and never missed a day of work in the 2½-month period," said Vera Walton, Miss Derwinski's supervisor. "She's been very cheerful and cooperative and always willing to lend a hand without being asked.

Play meeting draws crowd

At least 100 students were expected to turn out for a mass meeting dealing with the Belleville High School production of "Arsenic and Old Lace."

According to the play's director, Karen Sinkus, the meeting was an introduction for all students interested in the production and the 20 teachers who will be helping work with the cast and crew.

Auditions for the 14 positions were held Monday and yesterday with call backs to follow.

The comedy, written by Joseph Kesselring, takes place in Brooklyn, N.Y., and involves two old ladies, a crazy nephew, canals in the basement and some elderberry wine.

The production will be presented Nov. 13-15 in the Belleville High School Auditorium.

911--no county support

Most communities in Wayne County apparently aren't interested in a county-wide 911 emergency dialing system, and discussion of such an idea has been put aside indefinitely by the Public Safety and Judiciary Committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

After a year-long study and survey of the 43 communities involved, the lack of interest became apparent through responses to a questionnaire, sent by the committee. Only 36 out of the 43 cities and townships in the county responded, although questionnaires were sent to as many as three officials in some communities.

With surveys sent to mayors, police and fire chiefs, 29 communities said they were not interested and 24 said no future meetings should be scheduled to even consider it.

Many of those polled questioned the reliability of such an interconnected system and cited technical reasons for their unwillingness to join.

Administrative problems also concerned several cities and township officials that responded. They foresaw complications with jurisdictions and responsibility. Cost was another prohibitive factor cited by communities not wanting the service.

The 911 system, available already in some Wayne County cities, including Wayne, is an emergency service provided in conjunction with the telephone company whereby residents simply can dial 911 to be connected with police, fire and rescue services.

officials at a strategy meeting that the Road Commission's justification for constructing a new runway to the U.S. District Court judge who issued the permanent injunction was that a second instrumented runway was needed to handle increasing traffic.

But, according to Fadem, the Wayne County Road Commission's own figures show that both passenger need and flights have decreased at the airport steadily during the past five years.

"The original justification for the runway was to aid in meeting a projected increase in traffic," Fadem told the officials. "But with the fuel crisis and the increasing size of aircraft, the number of flights has decreased, resulting in less, not more demand."

Despite the trend in flight needs, Fadem expects some move by the Road Commission to restart construction on the extra runway.

"I expect something to break within four to six months," he said. "We should be prepared to fight then."

Let your taste buds tour wine industries

This is a tour of south-west Michigan for anytime from now through the end of October, could leave travelers a bit tipsy.

The 100-mile circular tour starts at Paw Paw and rambles through the heart of Michigan's grape-growing region, with stops at six wineries, offering free samples.

The journey through wooded countryside takes tourists past dozens of roadside fruit stands, where much of the produce sold is picked fresh from nearby farms and orchards. By making the trip during Sept. 18-21, visitors also can enjoy Paw Paw's annual Grape and Winery Festival and perhaps try some grape-stomping as part of the Oktoberfest-style celebration.

If seeing the grape harvest is a main goal, then follow this route either in the last two weeks of September or the first week of October. To view fall color, aim for the last half of October.

Each of the wineries should be visited. Some are larger and more automated than others. Two are in the city and offer very little country flavor, while others are located among the vineyards and have more atmosphere. All wineries offer free tasting, a tour among giant casks and barrels and an explanation of winemaking.

The first suggested stop in Paw Paw is the St. Julian Winery, 716 S. Kalamazoo. Relocating from Windsor to Michigan in 1933, St. Julian's is the state's oldest winery. After a stop at the tasting room, visitors are escorted on a 45-minute tour through the winery to see vats which hold 1.5 million gallons of wine.

League to host dinners

The Romulus Civic League will hold the first of its regularly scheduled smorgasbord dinners Saturday.

All area residents are invited to the weekly event between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m. at 11495 Wahrman. Adults will be fed for $2.75 per person and children will be charged $1.50.

The smorgasbord precedes the regular social hours sponsored by the non-profit Civic League each Saturday.

Teens in the community will be treated to teen dances soon.

Tentative plans call for dances to be held between the hours of 8 p.m. and 12 a.m. on Fridays.

Chairman of the smorgasbord dinner is Thelma Matthews.

She can be reached for more information by calling 941-2294.

Tours are offered from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

Next door is Warner Vineyards, maker of Cask wines. Warner's hospitality room is a picturesque red brick building, formerly the Paw Paw waterworks. The "Wine Haus" also has a small gift shop.

Following a 20-minute film in a railroad coach next to the tasting room, visitors are led on a 30-minute trip through the winery. Warner's, which can store more than three million gallons of wine, is open for touring between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

FR. JOHN BEUHNER

Church has new minister

A new pastor, Fr. John Beuhner, has been assigned to St. Aloysius Roman Catholic Church, 11290 Ozga Road, Romulus. He replaces Fr. Joseph Kernosek who has retired. "I am very happy to be at St. Aloysius," Fr. Beuhner said. "I will try to work, as best I can, in all areas of the parish community to help its function as a family."

Fr. Beuhner added he was very interested in the religious education program of the parish and believed in a total religious education program starting with pre-school children and extending through high school.

Ordained in 1972 at St. Michael Parish in Livonia, Fr. Beuhner studied at Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit and St. John's Provincial Seminary in Plymouth. He comes to St. Aloysius from St. Mary Church of Wayne, where he served first as a deacon and then as associate pastor.

Frontenac Winery is 1.5 miles west of Paw Paw at 3418 W. Michigan. Frontenac can store 655,000 gallons of wine and is open for tours from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from noon to 4:30 p.m. on Sunday. At the tasting room, 39 kinds of wine are served.

Bronte, five miles south of the I-94 Hartford exit, is the next stop. This is one of two places where visitors can walk through vineyards. A tour of the one-million-gallon facility takes 25 minutes. The winery is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday year-round and on Sunday, 12 until 4 p.m.

May through December. Tabor Hill Vineyards, just west of Berrien Springs, is the smallest winery, but the most picturesque and interesting because it lacks automation. The contemporary glass and plank building which houses the winery is atop a hill and surrounded by the vineyards.

Only 23,000 gallons of wine are expected to be produced here this fall. Visitors can walk through the vineyards or view them through huge glass windows while sampling in the hospitality room. Tabor Hill is open for tours from 12 to 5:30 p.m. daily.

'Miss Dig' expands in Lower Peninsula

"Miss Dig," a cooperative program among utilities and contractors to increase public safety efficiency and continuity of utility service, has spread to all 68 counties of the Lower Peninsula.

"Miss Dig" has succeeded in reducing instances of damaged utility lines in 38 eastern and central Michigan counties and now has been expanded to include the other 30 Lower Peninsula counties of western Michigan. Plans already are underway to include the Upper Peninsula in 1976.

The "Miss Dig" program prevents damage to underground utility lines by providing a toll free statewide telephone number — 800-482-7171 — that can be called by contractors and the general public before digging, blasting or drilling.

Through a computerized communication system, headquartered in Royal Oak, all participating utilities are notified by teletype of the impending work. If any of them have underground facilities at the work location, they will dispatch field personnel to identify their facilities with color-coded marks, at no cost to the contractor.

Forty-eight hours advance notice is asked.

The program began in November 1970 in south Oakland County. The sponsors are Consumers Power Co., General Telephone, Michigan Consolidated Gas, Michigan Bell and Detroit Edison.

The first "Miss Dig" telephone number spelled M-I-S-S D-I-G and still is used in the Detroit metro area.

Executive secretary of the program is Michael G. Digon, a gas division supervisor for Consumers Power, now working fulltime for the "Miss Dig" program.

'More than a quarter of a million calls have been received...'

"More than a quarter of a million calls have been received since the program was begun," he said. "One contractor told me he has reduced his accidents with utility lines by 90 percent."

Digon noted that Public Act 53, which became law in April, requires any contractor or other person who plans to dig or drill with power equipment or blast with explosives will notify utilities 48 hours or two working days before excavation begins.

"Although the law doesn't require a person digging with hand tools to notify the utilities, we urge anyone planning to dig at least 12 inches below ground level to call the 'Miss Dig' number," Digon said.

Several thousand contractors will use the expanded statewide service. Many in the western part of Michigan already have been using a service called CONA (Contractors One Number Alert), headquartered in Grand Rapids. CONA will become a part of the "Miss Dig" system, whose formal title is Utility Communication System.

A telephone call to 800-482-7171 reaches an operator in the "Miss Dig" call center at Royal Oak. Information about the exact nature of the excavation and the exact location, date and time of work is obtained.

This information is fed into a computer and the participating utilities and governmental agencies (cities, villages, counties, etc) are notified by teletype. If a utility company has no facilities in the work area, the caller is notified.

"We have 110 teletypes in the 'Miss Dig' system and we are adding 52 more when the statewide system begins. We expect to have about 250 eventually," Digon said.

Fourteen operators are on duty for calls made between 6 a.m. and 7 p.m. Monday through Friday. Weekend calls and calls made after hours will be handled by a recording that will advise the caller whom to contact if an emergency such as water main breaks, sewer repairs or other vital underground service, requires location of underground facilities.

Digon said utilities estimate about 50 percent fewer accidents since the program began, despite increased excavation activity.

The "Miss Dig" program has received prominent recognition throughout the nation as a model utility damage prevention program. As a result, the National Utility Contractors Association awarded George Kaston, a Consumers Power gas distribution superintendent, the "Safety Man of the Year" award for his significant role in developing the Miss Dig program.

Announcing a merger...

Standard Federal Savings AND Wayne Federal Savings

Two strong Savings and Loan Associations now move forward under the Standard Federal Savings name!

By joining together, the managements and staff of Wayne Federal Savings and Standard Federal Savings are combining their long experience, knowledge and resources — all directed toward one objective: to provide the ultimate in savings and home financing service.

What it means to you, the saver, is greater strength and convenience than ever before. Combined assets now exceed 1.4 billion dollars. It also means that our facilities have greatly increased as we now have 33 offices to serve you, each staffed with helpful, friendly and courteous people.

Wayne Federal Savings brings to Standard

Federal Savings a wealth of good will and good business. Standard Federal Savings brings to Wayne Federal Savings all the services you are used to and they will now be available to a far greater number of people. Yet this is only the beginning of a new era of growth for us—and for our customers.

To our Wayne Federal Savings friends, we extend a warm welcome as members of the Standard Federal Savings family.

To all our customers, this merger of two major associations means greater strength — greater capability — greater convenience through our expanded network of offices.

DR. AND MRS. ROGER P. ILVONEN

Ilvonen-Bunnell wed

Newlyweds travel to Montreal

A reception at the Dearborn Inn followed the recent marriage of Carol Dianne Bunnell of 1320 York, Denver, Colo., and Dr. Roger Paul Ilvonen of 1177 Race, Denver, Colo.

The bride, the daughter of Mrs. Garnett Bunnell of Romulus and the late Mr. Bunnell, was escorted up the aisle of the United Methodist Church of Trenton by her brother, Ronald Bunnell of Belleville.

The son of The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton of 7221 Davies Drive, Rockford, Mich., the bridegroom asked his stepfather and The Rev. Robert J. Hudgins to preside at the Aug. 23 ceremony.

For the 11 a.m. nuptial rite, the bride's brother, Robert Bunnell, played a trumpet solo, "Turn, Turn, Turn."

For her wedding day the bride selected a gown of ivory silk organza and Alencon lace, the fitted bodice accented with a Victorian neckline and Juliet sleeves. The A-line skirt, edged with a fine band of lace, swept into a chapel train.

Her shoulder length veil of ivory silk illusion drifted from a riser of lace and pearls. Cascading white roses, English ivy, stephanotis and baby's breath completed her bridal finery.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Gary (Janet) Haas of Dearborn, was honor attendant and Mrs. Richard (Meredith) Neumann of Ann Arbor, the only bridesmaid. Identically and groomsmen the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Douglas Seelhoff of Troy.

Mrs. Bunnell wore for her daughter's wedding an aqua jersey knit formal gown softly imprinted with orange tulips. Her corsage of orange roses was accented with English ivy. The bridegroom's mother donned a long emerald green gown and was presented a corsage of yellow roses and English ivy.

Best man was Dr. Todd Sorenson of Denver, Colo.

The young couple's 10-day honeymoon included a flight to Montreal, Quebec for three days followed by another plane trip to Portland, Maine where they then motored up the coast to Bar Harbour. The newlyweds have returned to Denver to make their home at 1177 Race, No. 1007.

The new Mrs. Ilvonen earned her bachelor of arts degree at Michigan State University where she affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She received her masters of social work from Smith College in Northampton, Mass. and now is employed as a social worker for the Denver Public Schools in a new program of classes for individually or behaviour disordered children.

master's degree. He completed his internship at the University of Colorado Medical Center and his residency in pathology at Presbyterian Medical Center in Denver. He currently is on the staff of St. Anthony's Hospital in Denver, working as a pathologist.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner which was held at Joey's Stables in Detroit.

Her bridegroom did his undergraduate work at the University of Michigan where he received his

Kresge grant aids Camp Fire project

A $10,000 grant from the Kresge Foundation marks the first major gift received by Camp Fire Girls Detroit Area Council since its recent inauguration of an all-out fund-raising campaign.

This gift will go toward construction of a 24-person winterized cabin at Camp

Wathana, the Council's resident facility near Holly, Mich.

The Kresge grant activates a capital gift arrangement available to Camp Fire through the United Foundation, of which it is a member agency. Together the Kresge and United Foundation funds will subsidize construction of the new cabin.

Founded in 1924, the Kresge Foundation has been a principal source of support for construction and renovation projects in the areas of education, health, welfare and the arts across the United States and in Canada.

Camp Fire Girls Detroit Area Council currently is engaged in a capital improvement program at Camp Wathana, a 380-acre site owned and operated by the Council. Before the summer of 1976, it is planned that besides the 24-person winterized unit, additional shower and toilet facilities will be provided and more acreage acquired to protect Wathana from encroaching "civilization." The Council acquired Camp Wathana property in 1926. There currently are 32 units, six of which are heated and can be used year-round.

In 1974, eight summer resident camp sessions served 828 girls. During the entire year nearly 5,000 persons used Camp Wathana. School and church groups from throughout the metropolitan Detroit area find this Camp Fire facility a good setting for retreats and nature study sessions. The camp enjoys constant use from Camp Fire members as well.

A late-summer ground breaking is anticipated for the winterized cabin made possible by the Kresge grant in conjunction with United Foundation Capital Fund money and some additional private gifts.

Vows repeated at St. Aloysius'

Two graduates of Huron High School, Judy Faye Miles and David John Wasilenski, exchanged wedding vows in a recent summer ceremony at St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus.

The Rev. George

Kowalski presided at the 3 p.m. rite before some 100 assembled guests. Judy Cullen was organist. Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Miles of 21311 Haggerty Road, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. John Wasilenski of 22550 Bell Road, New Boston.

The bride, escorted to the sanctuary by her father, appeared in a gown of silk organza styled with a notched neckline, bishop sleeves and a fitted bodice imprinted with daisy appliques.

A star shaped lace headpiece secured her fingertip veil and she carried red roses and white carnations.

As her sister-in-law's only attendant, Kathy Graham of Belleville donned a blue formal gown and matching summer hat and carried a bouquet of white daisies and blue-tipped carnations.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Tom Wasilenski of Milan, to serve as best man.

At the reception, held at the home of the bridegroom's parents on Bell Road, the bride's mother greeted guests in a green formal gown. Mrs. Wasilenski chose to wear a blue sleeveless frock. Both were presented with rose corsages.

The bride is employed at the Ben Franklin Store in Belleville and her husband by the Ford Motor Co. in Plymouth. Following graduation in 1966 he served with the U.S. Army.

Around town

Trip, showers, anniversary in the news

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

The Cleverlands of Belleville Road — Howard and Ramona — managed to squeeze in an 8-day trip to Hawaii as well as two weeks in northern Michigan before the start of school this fall.

First off, the Islands! With their trio, Eva, Kathy and baby, Pam, ensconced with their grandparents, Mrs. Howard Cleveland of Hart, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Jose Valdez of White Hall, the couple took off from Metro Airport. After a stop at Chicago's O'Hare they flew directly to Honolulu on the island of Oahu.

Their vacation included a tour of the entire island which took in the orchid farms and volcanoes. After five days they flew to the "big island", Hawaii, where they visited Pearl Harbor and the Arizona Memorial, drove through pineapple fields, kona coffee bean and macadamia nut orchards and saw one of the largest cattle ranches in the Islands.

On their return to the Mainland, they reunited their three daughters at the Valdez home in White Hall where they made their headquarters while breezing around northern Michigan. Horseback riding at the Rainbow Ranch in Hart, the Deer Park in White Hall, and swimming at Silver Lake were all on the home state agenda. There was also a reunion of the Cleveland clan at the Walkerville farm of an uncle and aunt, the James McFarrells of Muskegon.

Day-long fun at Cedar Point in Sandusky, Ohio put the cap on the family's vacation activities for another year.

October bride-elect feted

A unique idea with the flavor of early Americana — a quilting bee — was employed Sept. 13 when Lucy Schonfeld of Mason entertained at a pre-nuptial party in honor of her future sister-in-law, Luanne Smith of Belleville.

A month before the "shower", the hostess sent out to each guest a kit of diagrams and instructions as well as a bit of background on wedding quilt lore. Each person followed the same design — a house — but was to rummage through her own scraps of material for the dozen pieces which would make up her own personal square. She also was to embroider her name somewhere on the design and, when completed, return it by mail to the hostess.

Then on the day of the quilting bee, guests were invited to the home of Mrs. Jack Schonfeld in Imlay City. The squares, which had been sewn together by the party planner and her mother, Mrs. Milton D'Arcy, were divided by solid orange squares which the group also worked into a quilted design. Stretched on a huge frame, the coverlet then was worked on by some 20 guests.

Coffee breaks were part of the afternoon fun with a buffet dinner of baked ham and salads also on the agenda.

The guest list included Jo Copeland and Pam Kistler of Kalamazoo, Pat Eckberg of Grand Rapids, Diane Tong and Bev Kempf of Imlay City and Carol Smith of Belleville who were unable to be present but who had completed and sent in their personalized handiwork. The future bridegroom's brother, 11-year old David Schonfeld, also contributed a "house."

Those attending were Mrs. Jack Schonfeld, Mrs. Edgar Hougom and Mrs. Angeline Schonfeld, mother and grandmothers of the groom all from Imlay City; the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Bert Smith; her grandmother, Mrs. Ethel Smith of Willis, and her sister, Sue Smith, who came from Western Michigan University for the party.

Completing the roster were Mrs. D'Arcy, Mrs. Isabelle Braidwood, Mrs. Richard Wheeler, Mrs. Harold Schonfeld, Mrs. Helen Whitkopf, Mrs. Thomas Harris and Mrs. Joyce Tong, all of Imlay City; Mrs. Charles Schonfeld and Mrs. Michael Clark of E. Lansing; Robin Maiville of Manistee; Linda Temple of Midland and Amy Schonfeld of Ann Arbor.

The second in a series of parties planned for Luanne took place the evening of Sept. 18 at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Edward Hudge of Ann Arbor. Co-hostesses Mrs. William Hudge and Mrs. James Hudge of Belleville and Mrs. Thomas Hudge of Pinckney labeled their shower "hour of the day" and each guest was designated a particular time for which to gear her gift.

The party planners dispensed with games and simply let the 24 relatives and friends socialize. But every 15 minutes an alarm clock went off and two people had to move from their table to another so that everyone would eventually meet. During each transfer, Luanne was given one of her gifts to open and they were presented in "around the clock" order beginning with 9 a.m.

At the same time interval the honoree drew a name for one of the four door prizes which went to Mrs. Elwood Davie, Mrs. Joe Ross, Mrs. Louis Bokon and Cindy Hudge, all of Belleville.

Seated at tables appointed with alternating gold, brown and orange cloths and centerpieces of fresh mums, the group was then served a chicken salad luncheon, hot rolls and dessert.

The 28 guests from Trenton, Dexter, Dearborn Heights,

Wayne, Ypsilanti, Imlay City and Belleville completed the evening by seeing the remainder of the gifts unwrapped. Luanne's sister, Carol, and cousins, Judy and Cindy Judge and Nancy and Nora Hudge, helped with the ribbons and wrappings.

Luanne will become the bride of Pete Schonfeld of Evanston, Ill. on Friday, Oct. 24. St. Anthony's Catholic Church has been reserved for the occasion.

Party marks anniversary

Former Romulus residents, Pat and Linda Coulter, were in town for a few days recently and looked up several of their former classmates from Michigan State including Jess and Ann Johnson of Middlebelt Road.

On learning that the Coulters wouldn't be leaving for Boulder, Colo. until Sunday evening, the Johnsons hurriedly got several couples together to celebrate their fourth wedding anniversary which was Saturday.

Helping the hosts make the evening "special" were Tom and Marty Sauter of Warren; Jim and Eleanor Caine and Bill and Fran Wiskowski of Detroit; and Joe and Mary Santori of Trenton who all BYOB'd and also brought dishes to pass.

While in Romulus the Coulters were houseguests of her parents, the B.J. Rutherford.

South's squad earns second at cheer camp

Freshman cheerleaders from South Junior High School (SJHS) in Belleville won second place honors at cheerleading camp this summer. The camp, held in Midland, Mich., was sponsored by the Dynamic Cheerleader Association.

Three hundred fifty junior and senior high school girls took part in the clinic and tough competition. The girls were evaluated all week long on spirit, original cheers, skits and pom pom routines.

The girls from SJHS received 183 out of a possible 200 points to come insecond by only one point.

Those participating were Pam Paduan, Cathy Cilia, Michelle Pyshnik, Debbie Fuller, Linda Bonanni, Gloria Rochowiak, Debbie Cammet and Laurie Steiger.

St. John's site of nuptials

Donna J. Giezantner, the daughter of former Belleville residents, Mr. and Mrs. William Giezantner of 1231 S. Harris Road, Ypsilanti, became the bride of John D. Borges Sept. 6 at St. John the Baptist Catholic Church in Ypsilanti.

The 6:30 p.m. double ring rite was officiated by The Rev. David Harvey followed by a reception for 250 guests at the UAW Hall on Martin Place, Ypsilanti.

Carrying a colonial bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath, the bride was gown in lace-embroidered chiffon over bridal satin. The lace bodice was designed with an illusion neckline and wedding ring collar and the sleeves cut in the bishop mode.

A crescent of lace held her chapel length veil which was made of fabric to match the skirt of her gown.

Matron of honor was the bridegroom's sister-in-law, Debbie Borges of Ypsilanti. Her baby blue knit gown featured a lace insert on the lower skirt. Bridesmaids in lace gowns were Brenda Brewington of Willis, a classmate of the bride, and Gloria Armour of Taylor, a cousin.

Two cousins of the bridegroom, Delores and Heidi Borges, came from Ohio to serve as flowergirls. They appeared in blue frocks with lace pinafores.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Borges of Garden City, the bridegroom asked his brother, Ron Borges of Ypsilanti, to be best man. Two other brothers, Phillip and Dan Borges of Garden City, were ushers. Michael Davis of Ypsilanti carried out the role of ringbearer.

Following a honeymoon to Niagara Falls, the newlyweds moved into the bridegroom's residence at 815 Redwood Street, Ypsilanti.

The bride, a graduate of Lincoln High School, is employed at AAA Insurance Co. in Gault Village. Her husband graduated from Garden City High School West and is employed at Hydra-Matic in Willow Run.

The rehearsal party was hosted by the bride's parents at their home in Ypsilanti.

'Fish' seeking volunteers

For the past six months, a community volunteer group called Belleville-Romulus "Fish" has been quietly providing emergency services for this area. The program assists with food, transportation to and from doctor's offices and provides temporary shelter for those in need.

The name of the organization is derived from ancient Greek affirmation where the first letters of the words "Jesus Christ God's Savior Son" spelled ichthos, which is the greek word for fish. Since the name and symbol are almost as old as christianity, it is appropriate that both should be adopted today for the Christ-centered "Fish" groups. Fish began in England with the first American chapter being founded in West Springfield, Mass. in 1964. Today there are well over 1,000 chapters in this country.

Fish is geared for immediate action. It maintains a 24-hour answering service. Persons who need assistance leave name, phone number and their needs. The answering service then contacts the "Fish for the Day," a designated chapter member who arranges for a volunteer to provide the necessary need. Fish is supported by churches, community service groups and individual contributions. Persons volunteer services such as providing rides one day each month.

Although functioning effectively, Fish is in need of more help. If you have just a little time to serve, please call the service at 326-5161 or write Fish, P.O. Box 313, Belleville, 48111.

A refresher training course for all volunteer help and "Fish of the Day" will be held at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 6 at the First Methodist Church of Belleville's Fellowship Hall.

Alva Pluff, Dawn Bruder married at Belleville Methodist Church

The First United Methodist Church of Belleville was reserved for the recent summer wedding of Dawn R. Bruder and Alva A. Pluff. The young couple exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands before The Rev. Norman Beckwith. The candlelight, rainbow wedding was attended by some 225 relatives and friends including the bride's grandfather, David Fenn of Belleville.

Two plants of mums tinted in pastel hues, a memory candle and rainbow ribbons formed the setting for the 6:30 p.m. rite. The soloist was Mrs. Jack Burgett who sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Glenn Miller was organist.

At the conclusion of the service, there was a brief pause while the bride presented a long-stemmed red rose to her new mother-in-law and her bridegroom afforded the same honor to Mrs. Bruder.

The August nuptials united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Straub of 14384 Elwell Road, Belleville, and the son of Arthur Pluff of 13231 Beaubrin, S. Rockwood, and Mrs. Robert Van Brimer of 33321 Ludwig Dr., E. Rockwood.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in a silk organza A-line creation fashioned with bishop sleeves ending in deep cuffs and three rows of venise lace. The lace motif also was used at the bottom of the skirt which drifted into a chapel train. The little fitted bodice featured an illusion neckline and stand-up lace collar with wide lace inserts down the front.

Completing her bridal ensemble was a lace-trimmed fingertip veil caught to a lace Camelot cap and a cascade bouquet of white miniature carnations, pink roses and baby's breath.

The bride's best friend, Mrs. William Settles of Tipton, served as honor attendant in a pale blue country style gown of checked jersey with a matching shawl.

Bridesmaids in identical pastel gowns were Mrs. James Darnell of Romulus and Mrs. George Brown of Belleville, sisters of the bride in yellow and blue, respectively; Mary Pluff of S. Rockwood, sister of the bridegroom in pink; Mrs.

David Brownlee of Belleville in green, and Mrs. John Malott of Ypsilanti in orange.

Each carried a white princess basket filled with daisies, miniature carnations and baby's breath. They also wore fresh daisies and baby's breath in their hair.

Six-year old Lona Stevens, the daughter of the Palmer Stevenses of Carleton, was in a pale lavender version of the senior attendants' frocks for her role as flowergirl. David Brown, six, the son of the George Browns of Belleville, was his aunt's ringbearer.

Donald Pluff of Belleville was best man at his brother's wedding. The corps of groomsmen included Keith Bruder of Chicago, Ill., brother of the bride; George Brown of Belleville and James Darnell of Romulus, brothers-in-law of the bride; William Eaves of Belleville and Cal Caladino of Taylor.

At the reception which followed at UAW Hall, Local 735 of Belleville, the 325 guests were greeted by Mrs. Bruder in a sleeveless blue floral chiffon gown worn with a matching floor-length coat. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in a long-sleeved pink chiffon formal gown. Both were presented with daisy corsages to match their dresses.

Prior to moving into their new home at 147 Rustic Lane, Belleville, the newlyweds spent a week's honeymoon in Nassau.

A Belleville High School graduate, the new Mrs. Pluff earned her bachelor of science degree in early elementary education at Eastern Michigan University. She currently is teaching first grade at Mt. Pleasant Elementary School in Romulus.

Her bridegroom, an alumnus of Airport High School, served with the U.S. Marine Corps and now is employed at Huron Valley Steel in Taylor.

The bride's parents entertained at the rehearsal party at their home on Elwell Road.

March of Dimes sends plaudits to Miss Pyshnik

The Director of Youth Programs for the National Foundation, March of Dimes, Louise E. Roy of White Plains, N.Y. has sent a letter of commendation to Michelle Pyshnik, the 1975 Miss March of Dimes, for the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter.

Michelle, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pyshnik of 48496 Ellen Court, Belleville, was an eighth grade student at South Junior High School when she beat out 28 finalists for the title. In the preliminaries she won over 44 contestants from throughout the Detroit metropolitan area.

The communique reads as follows: "It is my privilege to tell you that you have been selected to receive a national service award for 'Outstanding Young Adult Volunteer.' In fact, we have singled you out to receive a special award to recognize your outstanding accomplishment as Miss March of Dimes for the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter.

By paying tribute to your dedicated service to the National Foundation, March of Dimes, we are voicing our recognition of the enormous contribution countless young people are making in the crusade to prevent birth defects and to enhance the quality of life at birth.

We shall soon be presenting you with a tangible token of our esteem and gratitude. Meantime, congratulations and grateful thanks for a job beautifully done. Need I say that I hope the March of Dimes can count on your continued commitment for many years to come."

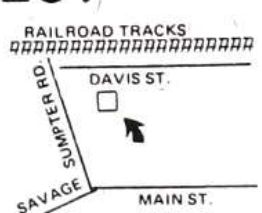

Michelle, a freshman, currently is on the cheerleading squad at South Junior High School where she is a candidate for student council. She also will be riding in the "Bike-a-thon" planned for this fall by the March of Dimes.

PEDDLE YOUR OWN CANOE...

There it sits in the garage . . . when's the last time you were able to take the trip down the river? A couple of summers ago? Okay, so you got your use out of it and now you have other interests you want to pursue . . . why not let someone else enjoy it this summer, and at the same time put a little cash in your pocket. You can peddle that canoe through the Classified Ads of this newspaper. Just give us a call and we'll help you word your ad for quick results on any item you may have that you no longer use.
